About Us - WWT

Wastewater comes from water used in the home, in businesses and factories and from rain falling on roofs or the roads and pavements. All wastewater follows the same route, wherever it comes from. It is guided down drains and into sewers that run under roads. These carry the water, now called sewage, to the waste treatment or sewage works.

Wastewater charges include taking away all your used water through our network of sewer pipes, cleaning it and returning it to rivers and the sea. We also take away rainwater from your home and roads (which we call surface water/highway drainage). In simple terms, the cost to provide these services is more than delivering water to you, and is why charges for wastewater are higher on your bill than for water.
