A study conducted by The Student PIRGs found that a new edition costs 12% more than a new copy of the previous edition (not surprising if the old version is obsolete), and 58% more than a used copy of the previous edition. Textbook publishers maintain these new editions are driven by demand from teachers.

Textbook - Wikipedia

Newer textbooks have usually been revised. But some things like basic math, languages, and grammar really don't change much. Basic 101 books don't change much either so the old books are probably just as good. Unless you are in advanced classes like Biology or History. I would definitely buy the older used ones.
