General Meaning. This suit, most often named Coins or Pentacles, is a symbol for a magical talisman that represented wealth or potential. This suit represents something supportive that is available to you -- whether it be health, some kind of talent, a material or financial resource. A Four in this suit has been used to express the paradoxical aspect of material security -- the two-edged sword of having been well supported and protected.

Medieval Scapini combines the traditional trumps of the early Italian style tarot with the more modern system of illustrating the pips, all in incredibly detailed artwork. While this is a contemporary deck, one would think it had been delivered in a time machine from the renaissance! I personally find the trumps to be the real anchor in the deck.

The suit in Tarot known as Cups is also referred to as Chalice's or Hearts. It represents the emotional and psychic aspects of life -- fantasy, imagination, feelings, love. An Ace of this suit in this position generally shows a hand holding up an overflowing cup, which gives forth an endless stream of water, wine, blood or soma for the people's refreshment and healing.

The colors are vivid but not too rich like normal medieval decks. That allows it to be a lighter deck and more open to interpretation. I believe it helps to develop intuition. This is not a dark or heavy deck in any sense of the word, for there are no violent or bloody pictures. The minor cards are illustrated, unlike the visconti-sforza, making it easier to read. The cards are a little bigger than normal decks and have a nice sheen, without being overly glossy.
