Compiling the sketch using the command line. Before uploading the sketch into our board, we have to compile it. To do this task, we need the FQBN of the board we will use to run the sketch. In this example we will use the Arduino MKR1000 board therefore the FQBN is arduino:samd:mkr1000. If you don't remember your FQBN you simply can list all the available boards and find your board in the list.
