Forests And Rural Communities

This book argues that policy solutions to resource dilemmas faced by forest-accessing rural communities must be flexible, and should allow for local dynamics and innovations to take place. Presenting case studies from Bhutan, India, Indonesia, Nepal, Thailand and Vietnam, this volume investigates how decentralization is affecting local stakeholders and their management of forest resources.

Decentralization, Forests and Rural Communities: Policy Outcomes in Southeast Asia by Edward L Webb. Asian societies are entering a new era of decentralized governance of forests. The authority to make decisions on forest management has shifted to lower levels of government and, in some cases, to the local people themselves.

Decentralization, Forests and Rural Communities

In addition, when we relate the concept of decentralisation to rural development (and more specifically to the role of agriculture in this process), the changing nature of agriculture itself and the increasing diversification of rural activities both contribute to the complexity of local issues and also the need to find new institutional solutions to overcoming the changing nature of rural development problems [2]. However, despite these apparently desirable features of decentralisation, any ...
