Manual vs. Automatic Transmission - Consumer Reports

Unlike manual and automatic transmissions, which have a fixed set of gears (and a fixed set of ratios), CVTs can continuously vary their gear ratios (hence their name) for maximum fuel efficiency. That helps them achieve better fuel economy when compared to a traditional manual transmission.

Which has better fuel economy: manual or automatic ...

Cars with manual transmissions get noticeably better gas mileage than those with automatic ones — about 2-5 mpg (about 0.80-2.0 kpl) better, in fact. This is because the driver has more control over the shifting in a car that has a manual transmission, but with an automatic transmission, the car waits until the driver starts pushing down on the gas or the car hits a preset point of speed or rotations per minute.
