The development is commenced by drawing the figure CCFG, and the centre line of this part can be obtained from the front elevation which appears as line CG, the widths being taken from the plan. The next problem is to obtain the true lengths of lines CG and DH and position them on the pattern; this can be done easily by the construction of two triangles, after the insertion of line DG.

So, the base represents the entire circumference of our round pipe and its length is $2\pi r$ with r being the radius of the pipe. Draw the base of the expanded pattern as shown below and label the corresponding points A, O, and B. Note point A is labeled on both sides, because when the shape is refolded into a pipe, these two points will form the seam and are therefore the same.
