Amazon.com: Customer reviews: The Great Disruption: Why ...

You can help by adding to it. (September 2012) In The Great Disruption, Gilding posits that the financial crisis of 2007–2008 is a symptom of human civilization growing beyond Earth's ability to support it, and is tied to the threat posed by climate change and other forms of environmental degradation. Because of this, Gilding calls for an end to the whole concept of exponential economic growth, which he blames for the consumption and waste that has led to both the economic and ecological ...
