The Starving Time "The starving time" was the winter of 1609-1610, when food shortages, fractured leadership, and a siege by Powhatan Indian warriors killed two of every three colonists at James

Fort. From its beginning, the colony struggled to maintaining a food supply.

The Starving Time | Historic Jamestowne

Starving Time at Jamestown in the Colony of Virginia was a period of starvation during the winter of 1609-1610. There were about 500 Jamestown residents at the beginning of the winter. However, there were only 60 people still alive when the spring arrived. The colonists, the first group of whom had originally arrived on May 13, 1607, had never planned to grow all of their own food. Their plans depended upon trade with the local Powhatan to supply them with food between the arrivals of ...
