Gods Passion For His Glory

Understanding that God is most glorified in us when we are most satisfied in him has made all the difference for John Piper — and can transform your life as well. Here Piper passionately demonstrates the relevance of Edwards’s ideals for the personal and public lives of Christians today through his own book-length introduction to Edwards’s The End for Which God Created the World .

God’s Passion for His Glory | Desiring God

The End for Which God Created the World, (and by extension God's Passion for His Glory) is about exactly what the title implies, viz., the reason God created the world (or universe, if you prefer). It answers the question, "Why are we here?".

Gods Passion for His Glory by John Piper (1998-09-06 ...

The infinite energy of ultimate reality is the energy of eternal worship in the Godhead: God the Father looks out over the panorama of his own perfections, reflected back to him in the Son with the exact representation of his glory, with love and admiration and infinitely energetic delight; and the Son reciprocates, and that energy stands forth in another person, the Holy Spirit.

God's Passion for His Global Glory | Desiring God

The ballast is God’s passion for his glory. He is committed to upholding his glory. He is jealous that he be the supreme treasure in your life above everything else, the dearest things that you have or know. I read this in Malachi 1:14 this morning, “‘I am a great King,’ says the Lord of hosts, ‘and my name will be feared among the nations.

God’s Passion for His Glory | Desiring God

The answer is that God’s passion for his glory is the essence of his love to us. But narcissism and megalomania are not love. God’s love for us is not mainly his making much of us, but his giving us the ability to enjoy making much of him forever. In other words, God’s love for us keeps God at the center.
